Commanders Message

Cmdr. Armand Canestraro, P

Where has all the time gone? I ask myself that very question every day. For this issues Commanders message, my last, I decided it should be from a nearby lake, one many of us navigate each summer as Power Squadron members. So I headed out, and while I made an attempt at a pre-season cruise, unfortunately, the weather had turned winter-like, the water turned hard, forcing me to take yet another of my crafts out for a short ride, making sure to heed the warning of the “no wake zone” buoy I encountered as I headed out of the bay. This months venture kept me close to home at Dominick’s Sand Bar Restaurant on the Great Sacandaga Reservoir at 43.3N and 73.9W.

Spring is once again upon us, our clocks have sprung ahead, the crocuses have begun to show through the flower beds warmed by a March sun, and returning robins are everywhere despite the remnant snow banks of the Valentines Day blizzard here in the Northeast. Just as spring brings with it renewed life in each of us with thoughts of yet another boating season fast approaching, it brings us to the Squadron’s annual meeting and Change of Watch ceremony to be held on March 25th. Where has the time gone?

There are so many people I need to thank who made the job of Commander of LGPS an easy and most enjoyable one for me. I especially thank each of my Bridge officers for their continued efforts and brilliant contribution each day during this past year; The numerous committees that served tirelessly, especially the members of the Chart Committee; Those members who unselfishly spent hours of their free time teaching the many safe boating classes throughout our area; All the new members who joined us here at LGPS; The new honorary members for their hard work and dedication toward the Squadron's goals; and each and every member with renewed interest who attended our exciting events. I further thank those who took to the challenge of my command recruiting new members to join our ranks and to those who have had vessel safety examinations performed on their vessels.

A special thanks goes out to the many Soundings reporters and writers, my co-editor John Jermano and our copy-layout coordinator, publisher and wife, Donna Canestraro who without their efforts, Soundings would have not have made it to each of our mailboxes bi-monthly and most importantly awarded the USPS 2006 Distinction in Journalism Award. I also wish to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank posthumously the past efforts of deceased members Jim Lafferty, Al Martinez and Blanche Hart who past away during my Command and who will all be sorely missed. Last but not least, thank you to all the LGPS members for the trust you placed in me to serve as your Commander for 2006-07.

This 59th year of our Squadron was truly a successful year. Lets keep the momentum moving forward, continue to recruit new members, teach entry and advance grade classes and most importantly make the waters of our region safe and enjoyable for everyone through our on-going efforts. Thank you all again – it was a most enjoyable year.

BOATING SAFETY

Lt/C Paul Kenny, JN – Safety Officer

BOATING SAFETY FATALITY STATISTICS FOR 2005

In the last issue of Soundings, I summarized the results of a study that addressed the issue of under-reporting boating accidents. Boating accident data is collected in the Boating Accident Report Database (BARD) and published by the United State Coast Guard (USCG). Among the three reported categories of (1) fatal injuries, (2) non-fatal, hospital-admitted injuries; and (3) non-fatal, non-admitted injuries, the most accurate category by far was the fatal injuries with only a 1% under-reporting. In this issue of Soundings, the fatal accident data for 2005 are summarized.

Boating Statistics - 2005, issued by the USCG, contains statistics on registered boats and recreational boating accidents along with information on boating safety activities for calendar year 2005. The report is about 50 pages in length and contains numerous tables and graphs that look at boating accident data in many different ways. There are data for fatalities, injuries, and accidents. These data are sorted and categorized by different characteristics such as type of vessel, factors contributing to the accident, whether a personnel flotation device (PFD) was worn or not, and the level of boating instruction, just to name a few. The following is a small sample of the information presented in the report.

Excerpts from the Executive Summary

These results, dealing mainly with boating fatalities, were part of the Executive Summary:

- In 2005, States and jurisdictions reported a total of 12,942,414, registered recreational boats. The 4,969 boating accidents reported in 2005 resulted in 697 fatalities.
- Approximately 70% of all fatal boating accident victims drowned (491 out of 697). Moreover, 87% percent of the victims who drowned were not wearing their personal flotation device (PFD or lifejacket). Overall, fatal accident data show approximately 426 lives could have been saved last year if boaters had worn their lifejackets.
- The most reported type of accident was a collision with another vessel. However, capsizing and falls overboard are the most reported types of fatal accidents and accounted for the vast majority (59%) of all boating fatalities. Boat operators need to pay attention to the capacity label on their boat and be careful not to overload small boats (less than 16 feet) with passengers and/or gear.

- Over all, careless/reckless operation, operator inattention, excessive speed and operator inexperience are the leading contributing factors of all reported accidents.
- Twenty-one (21) children age 12 and under lost their lives while boating in 2005 compared to 14 children in 2004.
- Approximately 70% of all reported fatalities occurred on boats where the operator had not received boating safety instruction.
- Alcohol use was either a direct or indirect contributing factor in approximately one-quarter of all boating fatalities in 2005.
- The Executive Summary also contained the following tables.

TOP TEN CONTRIBUTING FACTORS
ACCIDENT RANK	CONTRIBUTING FACTOR	NUMBER OF ACCIDENTS	NUMBER OF FATALITIES
1	CARELESS/RECKLESS OPERATION	639	40
2	OPERATOR INATTENTION	568	44

3	COLLISION WITH FIXED OBJECT	497	41
4	SKIER MISHAP	464	10
5	CAPSIZING	442	199

Overall Fatality Rate from 1991 to Present

The report also contained a table showing the overall fatality rate per 100,000 registered boats from 1991 to present. The fatality rate has significantly declined from 8.3 in 1991 to 5.4 in 2005. Most of the decline occurred in the first 8 or 9 years of this period. There has been little change in the rate over the last few years.

EXECUTIVE OFFICER’S REPORT:

1. Everything is running smoothly.
2. Did further research with the Gideon Putnam Hotel about setting up our Change of Watch as a brunch. Can do for $25 per person plus $100 for a separate room for our business portion of the event. Will also check with the Glen Sanders Mansion to see what they can offer. It was noted that the Gideon could only accommodate 32 people, which may be too small. They may have a bigger room available. Will attempt to book 25th of March.
3. It would be nice if we helped out at the upcoming boat shows: (a) Alpin Haus (Saratoga City Center February 9-11) and (b) Eastern New York Marine Trades Association (Adirondack Sports Complex, Queensbury March 15-18). Bob Terry, of the Sacandaga Power Squadron is recruiting volunteers and would like a response by March 11th. Free admission is provided to those who staff our information booth. It was noted that we have not been able to locate the photos that we used on the display. Armand to check with John Jermano to see if they could help recreate them if needed. Discussion also took place about providing brochures about our Squadron to boat show attendees.

TREASURER’S REPORT:

1. Latest financial report distributed for review. Overall, we’re in good shape. Motion made to file the Treasurer’s report for audit made by Chuck Everson. Second by Joan Londynsky. Motion passed.
2. Unfortunately, our insurance agent was unable to attend this evening as had been previously arranged. Max will follow up for a future meeting.

ADMINSTRATIVE OFFICER’S REPORT:

1. The December rendezvous was a success. Everyone had a good time. A big thank you goes out to Lt/C David Wilkinson, who provided disc jockey services, and also to Commander Canestraro who made the arrangements.
2. Next event is the Change of Watch. Joan said she can help put this together; however, she will not be available and C.O.W. reservations should go directly to Kevin.

EDUCATION OFFICER’S REPORT:

1. Dick was pleased to report that First Mate Polly was doing better after taking a fall and thanked the Squadron for their care and concern. Dick noted that they have been encouraged by their children and have agreed to move to Pennsylvania at the end of the month in order to be closer to their children and grandchildren. Dick and Polly’s new address will be: 172 Oak Ridge Drive, York, PA 17402. They hope to return to Lake George during summer months at their camp.
2. Dick raised the question of whether or not we wish to continue to offer the Basic Boating Course and kids’ course at Niskayuna High School. P/C Jim Kelly usually teaches the kids’ course. The course(s) are offered as part of the District’s Adult Education program. Consensus: We will continue to offer the course. Dick would contact Vicky Holley at Niskayuna to let her know of our plans and provide a new contact for the classes.

3. Brief discussion took place about the possibility of selling the ABC course materials at a boat show and offering on-line exams.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE'S REPORT:

1. Chuck Everson, Chair, indicated he needed to fill positions for 2007-08.
2. Chuck noted that the Education Officer is a very important Squadron position. P/C Dick Mathews will be greatly missed after his 8 years of dedicated service and was presented an elegant scroll to recognize his service and dedication.
3. The 2007-08 nomination slate needs to be published in the Soundings – it will appear in the December-January issue.
4. It was noted that the deadline for submission of the slate to National is February 1st. The main concern is the Education Officer position because, unlike the others, approval by National is required.

COMMANDER'S REPORT:

1. Commander Canestraro has exchanged correspondence with the Albany Marriott, thanking them for their efforts at our December rendezvous. They thanked us for our business and would be glad to have us back.
2. Information about the annual meeting in Jacksonville, Florida, is available if anyone is interested.
3. Donna Canestraro has spoken with Kevin about purchasing a PC or notebook computer that can go from one Commander to the next. More information and cost quotation to follow at next meeting.
4. Looking for help at the upcoming boat shows. Contact Bob Terry to let him know your availability.
5. Armand has received a Certificate of Membership for Lawrence Miller. The certificate was signed and presented to Mr. Miller via the mail.

CHARTS:

1. Armand has spoken with Buck. Final revisions to the new chart are taking place. Other modifications were suggested. It is most likely an update will be made at the February 21st meeting by a member(s) of the Chart Committee on their progress. Buck Bryant has suggested offering honorary LGPS memberships to two non-LGPS members who have worked tirelessly on our re-charting project. It was agreed to offer honorary membership to Randy Rath of Lake George Association and Sarah Frankenfeld of Fountain Spatial, Inc..

SECRETARY'S REPORT:

1. Correction made to the December meetings regarding the name of the Queensbury country club. Should be spelled "Hiland" as opposed to "Hyland." Motion was made (Kevin/2nd – Joan) to accept the minutes from the November & December meetings. Motion passed.
2. Since the Secretary received, as a Christmas gift, an HP PhotoSmart all-in-one printer/fax/copier, and offered the Squadron's Canon BJC-4000 color inkjet printer to anyone member who might have a use for it. The printer is still in good working order. P/C Chuck Everson indicated he could possibly find a home for it.

OLD BUSINESS:

- None.

NEW BUSINESS:

- Next scheduled meeting date is February 21st, which is Ash Wednesday. Max confirmed that the church is available despite this religious day. After brief discussion, it was decided to keep the meeting date of February 21st as scheduled.

Motion to adjourn made by Chuck Everson. 2nd by Dick Mathews. Meeting adjourned at 2009

*Respectfully submitted,
Lt./C David J. Wilkinson, Secretary*
